

COMMUNITIES AT CROSSROADS

WINTER SEMESTER 2021

CROSSROADS

COMMUNITIES AT CROSSROADS

At Crossroads we use our Sunday services across all of our campuses to collectively gather to study the truths of God's Word together. Our goal is to open the Bible, see the gospel revealed and unpack it in a way that shows what God is saying to us. Yet to really understand the way God's Word is best lived out in everyday life, we have Community Groups, Classes, and Connect Groups that meet throughout the week. These groups help us to move teaching from our minds into our hearts. They change the way we live. Through these Crossroads Communities, we provide a way to "continue the conversation."

In Communities at Crossroads, we gain a bigger view of the God we worship through understanding His Word to us. The Holy Spirit convicts us of truths we may not have seen if we had not opened ourselves up during these group discussions. Community Groups, Classes, and Connect Groups are the perfect place for these discussions because there are people who want to comfort, encourage, pray, come alongside and minister to the needs of others in the group. Bonds build trust, trust builds bonds.

In this catalog, you can explore the different opportunities available to make deeper connections happen. You'll also read stories of people from Crossroads who got involved in Communities and you'll hear how their lives were changed because of it. Maybe yours will be a story worth sharing in the future because you said "yes" to getting into community.

We're looking forward to seeing God work in and through you this coming semester! Please don't hesitate to contact me if you have any questions or you'd like to talk with our Communities team about what group option may be right for you. You can always reach me at chris.standridge@crossroadswired.com.

CROSSROADS GROUPS

COMMUNITIES VISION

“COMMUNITIES AT CROSSROADS IS OUR STRATEGY FOR DEVELOPING FOLLOWERS OF CHRIST THROUGH TRANSFORMATIONAL TEACHING, BIBLICAL COMMUNITY, AND MISSIONAL LIVING.”

Groups are the primary way we connect people with people at Crossroads. Groups and classes typically meet at least twice a month in various locations around the area. Some groups meet in homes, others at one of our campuses, some are online, while others are hybrid groups that we like to call “phygital.” They are groups that have people meeting both physically and digitally.

We have four types of groups at Crossroads: Theological, Relational, Restorational, and Missional. While all of our groups should regularly include community, prayer, and some spiritual teaching or conversation, each type of group will lean more heavily toward the category it falls under.

Register for a group or class at crossroadswired.com/communities or by filling out a paper registration form during our Launch Sundays at any campus prior to the start of the semester.

A Great Way to Connect With Others in a Large Church

Many people find friendships through Community Groups or Classes, but another way to meet people and begin forming gospel relationships is through Connect Groups. Listen to Isaac's story and how the Connect Group he started impacted him.

"I have been attending Crossroads for just over a year now and I have been able to plug in through different serving opportunities as well as meeting friends of friends. The one area that has been very impactful for me was through leading one of the Connect Groups.

I have always been a huge fan of baseball, playing it all through school. Toward the end of my high school years, I joined a summer church softball team through my previous church. It was such a great way to connect with the great men at the church that shared a similar interest with me. I came to Crossroads in November 2019 and from the start, I got in touch with some of the staff to see if there was a softball team because I knew it would be a great way to get involved with some of the people here.

When I heard they did not have a team, I knew I wanted to step in and fix that. I had no experience in coaching of any sort, but I knew that I could put a team together and make my hope a reality. Sure enough, I was able to get a group together with lots of help from the Communities Pastor.

Being a part of this Connect Group was a great way to get to know not only many people in the church that had a similar love for the sport of softball, but also to get to know many other people from churches around the area. We met every Tuesday for double header softball games, playing other church teams in the area.

Softball was a great way to connect with other members at Crossroads who we might not see because of the different services available, and it was also a great connection with the community. This experience is one that I will not soon forget and am looking forward to this summer!" – Isaac Baldridge

A Place for Kids That Encourages Biblical Foundations

Every godly parent wants a strong biblical foundation for their children. At Crossroads, we have a ministry that serves to come alongside parents to help them ground kids in the Bible. One mom of four kids tells us how much the Kids Ministry at Crossroads has blessed her family.

"Our four kids, ranging from 2 to 10 years, all love Crossroads Kids Ministry! The caring team members have been amazing with our youngest who is hesitant to be separated from mom and dad while we attend services. They do an amazing job of creating a fun and engaging atmosphere for little ones while making them feel comfortable in our absence.

In the elementary class, our twins have so much fun and are always excited to tell us about what they've learned. It's great that they find a balance between discussion and activities for wiggly and very active boys! We especially love how they encourage a strong biblical foundation through memorizing scripture weekly.

Our oldest is in the preteen class. She appreciates how the teachers know her by name and connect with her as an individual. They've encouraged her to get in the habit of bringing her Bible each week and taking notes. She has even started doing daily devotions on her own!

As parents, it is so comforting to know that our children are being educated and well cared for while we are able to engage in the service. This time allows all of us to fill our buckets each week and know that our church family is participating in strengthening their faith."
- Hallie Gibson

“Cherub Wings” is an entertaining and inspirational production geared to children ages 3-K. More than anything else Cherub wishes to share Heaven with children everywhere! What a surprise when Jesus commissions him to do so, resulting in a fun-packed visual delight of a program.

PRETEEN (GRADES 4-5)

Kids today have no shortage of heroes. However, the heroes being offered by popular culture are teaching children that physical perfection, financial success and fame are the most important goals in life. The Torchlighters video series has been created to offer children real heroes who won’t lead them astray. The heroes we choose to portray have lived truly great lives—lives marked by moral depth, strength of character and an unswerving commitment to faith in Christ. By sharing in their struggles and small steps of obedience, we are all challenged to live lives of faith and to follow in the footsteps of the greatest torchlighter of them all, Jesus Christ.

Each week includes fun themes tied into the day’s lesson for kids to participate in, including: Crazy Backwards Day, Pink/Red Valentine’s Day, Back to the 80s Day, Crossroads Spirit Day, Green St. Patrick’s Day, and Pajama Party.

Kaitlyn, who is a senior at Shelby High School this year, has been a part of Crossroads Student Ministries since her middle school years. As a Student Ministry "veteran" she has not only made many memories but has also felt the positive impact of years of discipleship through the other leaders and community she has developed.

Recently Kaitlyn said, "Student Ministry has been one of the biggest blessings in my life. Not only has it allowed me to grow in my walk with Christ, but also in my friendships. I am thankful for Crossroads and all of its members, team members, and mentors. Crossroads Student Ministry has given me a better understanding of Christ and the church."

Community plays a huge role in the church (1 Corinthians 12:12), which is why student mission trips have been so special to me. Student Ministry has provided me with many life-changing opportunities: mission trips being one of them. Serving with my brothers and sisters in Christ in Louisville, Kentucky will always be one of my favorite memories. I'm grateful for the impact that Crossroads SM has had on my life and am excited to see how God continues to use us all for His glory!" -Kaitlyn Owen

TYPES OF GROUPS AT CROSSROADS

THEOLOGICAL

Theological groups have to do with the formal aspects of any gathering, and that is studying the Word of God. Each time a theological group meets, the Bible is the foundation to address and answer life's questions. Many of these groups place high emphasis on Christian doctrines, books of the Bible or Bible character studies. While philosophy and psychology serve a legitimate purpose, Christians need to return to the very words of God - the Bible - as the ultimate source for life's questions. The Bible then must be foundational to what we believe and practice.

RELATIONAL

While still placing an emphasis on the study of scripture, relational groups also have a familial focus because the group typically meets regularly over multiple semesters. The group members become friends. But more significantly, they experience what it means to be a family. A biblical family is one in which ALL of life is shared, the ups and downs and the triumphs and defeats. A healthy relational group will be like a healthy family - everyone is accepted, loved, held to account, and supported, no matter the circumstances.

RESTORATIONAL

Restorational groups provide shepherding and godly counsel for group members. If a marriage is struggling, an individual is going through grief, a veteran is struggling with PTSD, or someone is fighting an addiction - these types of issues become the bond that attracts and ministers to the group. While drawing from biblical teachings and principles, these groups find their focus in helping those in the group pursue recovery, support and counsel through the storm they're in.

MISSIONAL

Missional groups pursue an understanding of God's work in our world and actively join Him in it, be that in workplaces, neighborhoods, communities or the world. The missional group sends people outside of the "living room" and "church" and encourages participants to get involved in such things as community service, evangelism and global outreach. They are outward focused as a group and foster that orientation as individuals as well.

I Am the Hands and Feet of Jesus

"In January of 2019, I was privileged to go on a mission trip to Guatemala. I did not really want to go at first, but the Lord kept pushing me and opening doors. I am so thankful that I listened to those nudges from the Lord to do something. The trip was truly life changing. I am a wife, a mother, and a teacher and during the trip, I interacted with teachers who were doing their job with no materials and secondhand equipment. I spent time with wives and mothers in their homes. Standing in their home that was nothing more than a shack with no running water, no bathroom and dirt floors, I prayed with them for the safety of their husbands and children. I played with the children on the streets. I was also blessed to meet and serve the coffee farmers that help supply our coffeehouse at Crossroads.

Upon returning home, I found myself frustrated and grieving for the people I left behind. I wanted to do something that would make a lasting difference, not just a week-long trip. Serving at Crossroads Coffee & Tea helps me make that difference. Every time I hand a customer a cup of coffee with a smile, I am still serving the people of Guatemala. When I ring up an order, I am the hands and feet of Jesus and supporting those less fortunate. Crossroads Coffeehouse is my Guatemala mission trip that doesn't end." - Wendy Killian

The People in My Group Are Now My People

Are you feeling disconnected, lonely or isolated? How could I feel so lonely in a huge church like Crossroads when there were so many people? Brittany would see familiar faces pass by her with a smile. But yet she didn't feel like she had people to walk alongside her. She couldn't go to someone at church and ask them about that "thing" they had last week. She prayed for people to "do life with." Well, God heard her and answered her prayers. Brittany recently shared her story with us.

"My husband and I recently accepted an invitation to a Growth Track community group that went through "Rooted." The study was great. It helped create life rhythms that facilitated a God-centered lifestyle. Because I took the time each day to dive into God's Word, pray, meditate and listen to Him, God taught me so much and I feel so much closer to Him now. It was something I was missing but didn't know how to get back.

Yes, the study itself was great, but the community within our group took me to the next level. God hand-picked each couple and placed us together. We didn't know each other at the start, but that quickly changed. The dynamic within our group allowed us to be vulnerable and authentic at a very quick pace (something I hadn't quite experienced before). Mondays, the nights we met, were my favorite evening of the week; filled with laughter, love, heart-felt conversation, quick-whit, wisdom and learning. These people in my group are now "my people", my friends.

My husband and I experienced some trauma and heartache during the weeks we met with our group and we couldn't make it one session. We were walking through something that had the potential to create isolation and loneliness, but after the group met that Monday night, they sent us a recording of their prayers for us. For eight minutes, my husband and I held each other, cried, and listened to those loving prayers. It's because of love, support and community that during our pain, we were able to experience God's sufficient grace and overwhelming peace. Our group prayed on our behalf when we couldn't pray for ourselves. Their prayers and love carried us through a difficult time and because of that, we still felt joy amid sorrow.

We are not meant to do life alone. God created us in His image to have fellowship and to love one another. It takes initiative and intentionality to create that community. I encourage you to get connected with a Communities Group or Class this semester. It could be just what you've been looking for." -Brittany Souder

The City Center Has My Heart

"About 6 months before I had to retire (almost 2 years ago now), I was looking for things to do to keep me busy. At church that Sunday, they announced a new team member opportunity at the City Center. They were going to start a laundry service for under-served people in the downtown Mansfield area and provide coffee and conversation while the guests waited for their laundry. I was able to talk to the City Center Program Director about volunteering and she was excited to get my husband and I on board.

I started with having conversations with the guests, but then moved to helping with the laundry and eventually helping in the kitchen and anywhere that help was needed. I am now retired and I am able to give more time at the City Center along with my daughters. We have helped with many of the serving opportunities there. I have come to know so many team members and guests. For 25 years, I didn't really see Mansfield until I started serving at the City Center. Now I see and recognize people. I see the struggles, the heartache, the addiction and the incarcerations. I also see the joys of a new job, a new haircut, a baby shower, a birth, sobriety, a delivered meal, being recognized, called by name and friendship. The City Center has taught me that even though getting tasks done is great, what is even better is relationships. Everyone has a story and people like to know that you care.

The City Center has my heart. It is fun to be able to come up with new ideas, and often those ideas are implemented! Get involved. Find something that will capture your heart, it will change your life and maybe others too!" - Bonnie Secrist

Saying Yes When God Shows You Where to Serve

Crossroads is a church on mission to “lead people to the Truth that transforms lives” not only in North Central Ohio, but around the world. We are making a global impact because people like Mark say “Yes!” When God shows them where He wants them to serve and make a Kingdom impact. Read Mark’s thoughts on his involvement in missions through Crossroads.

“Before I accepted God’s call to serve with our Missions team, I felt like I was only “putting in the time” at church. But something was missing. I grew up in a family that struggled to get by. We didn’t have the things our friends and neighbors had, but we still survived. As I started growing in my faith and walking with Christ I felt led to serve others. I wanted to serve others who were going through tough times in a way that improved their lives as well as share God’s love to them.

When the church was looking for team members to help with Adopt-A-Child many years ago, the Holy Spirit said, “This is it!” Here was an opportunity to serve families who really were going through tough times. My heart really hurts when I see children missing out on the joy they should have.

Once I committed to serving with our Missions team, more doors began to open. I have since made 2 trips to Cambodia to help build God’s Kingdom with our children from Asia’s Hope as well as mentoring a child through Mid-Ohio Youth Mentoring. Then God opened the doors at the City Center and He put me in front of many more people who were missing something in their lives.

All it took was saying “YES” and God showed me where to serve.” -Mark Montgomery
